Hon. E. B. Washburne, Chairman of the Committee of Appropriations, authorizes the statement that the Secretary of the Treasury has the receipts of the National Treasury for the current fiscal year, which will very far more than meet the appropriations voted for the miscellaneous expenditures for the year by the House of Representatives, by the end of the fiscal year next ensuing. Hon. Mr. Washburne is a member of the Committee of Ways and Means, and his statement is based on the figures of the end of the current year. The first quarter of the fiscal year ended on the last day of September. The receipts of revenue in the Treasury are in a state of entirely current revenue and ordinary income. Those in the Treasury are the receipts of loans. The custom receipts for the quarter from first to the commencement of the last year to September 30th, were 60,000,000 gold. To these receipts can be added one fourth, less than the average for the receipts of the other months of the year, for the reason that the receipts in the collections these figures indicate a gold revenue from customs of at least $70,000,000 for the year.

The receipts of internal revenue for the first quarter amounted to $30,000, including an average of $10,000,000 per month. In addition to the estimate that the revenue has been augmented by receipts from the income tax, it is stated that the whole amount derived from the new tax is $100,000, and that the deficiency from the former will be more than made up by the increase of the tax on spirits. Allowing for the reductions on raw cotton and manufactured products, exclusive of spirits, beer, tobacco, petroleum and sparkling wine, the receipts will reach $300,000,000 for the year. The amount of $150,000,000 in gold is expected to close up the receipts of the second quarter, making a total of $150,000,000 from these sources. Customs are entitled to receive for the receipts of the first year from internal revenue $100,000,000, making the total amount of the receipts for the year $250,000,000.

The gold receipts under the head of miscellaneous for the last fiscal year were $20,000,000, with the exception of the receipts from direct tax which amounted to but $1,000, the receipts for the current year will be $40,000,000, and for the next year at least $50,000,000. The receipts from customs for the current year will be $70,000,000 at the lowest estimate, from internal revenue $100,000,000, miscellaneous $7,000,000, total $277,000,000.

The expenditures for the last fiscal year, including interest on the public debt, amounted to $520,000,000. With the appropriations of $7,000,000 for the Pacific railroads, and $5,000,000 for the Union Pacific railroad, and $5,000,000 for the Southern Pacific railroad, and $5,000,000 for the Atlantic and Great Western railroad, and $5,000,000 for the Kansas Pacific railroad, and $5,000,000 for the Northern Pacific railroad, and $5,000,000 for the Texas Pacific railroad, and $5,000,000 for the Atlantic and

REPUBLICAN CO. NOMINATIONS.

National Ticket.

State Ticket.

County Ticket.

City Ticket.

The Republican nominees for the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in Philadelphia county are Hon. A. J. Hoag and A. B. Hargrave. Mr. Hoag and P. S. Bomeisterwere the representatives last year, and both were candidates for renomination, Mr. Hoag only being successful. Mr. Bomeisterwas, who is represented to be personally an upright, intelligent citizen, charges his defeat upon acting in Harrisburg, and at the solicitation of his friends announces himself as an independent candidate for Assembly. If Mr. Bomeisterwas a good Republican, and can appreciate the necessity of securing a Republican United States Senator in place of Broderick, he will retire from the field. If not, the probabilities are that we may lose a member in Dauphin county.

The New York correspondent of the Boston Post expresses great confidence that Pennsylvania will be carried by the Democrats next week, whereby will be "forever rebuked the judgment of the people in November." The writer says the Democrats are stunning in this State "do not think the Republicans fail, and predict a majority of from 6,000 to twenty thousand in October." This prediction is further foretold that

> We put on record these expressions of confidence to refer to in future, and to show with what expectations the Democrats soon encountered the day of rout.

SELECTOR DRUM WELL'S.

Our Republican friends will remember that this is the last week of the campaign so far as State and local officers are concerned, and every voter should make it his duty to attend the meetings and other demonstrations announced and in progress. A number of distinguished speakers will be with us during the week, and the Executive Committee have only arranged for the following meetings:

On Wednesday evening, at City Hall, Hon. Horace Wilson, of Westmoreland. Same evening, at Col. Shiner's, Allegheny. Every American will speak informed.

On Thursday evening, at City Hall, J. G. Hunter, of Butler. Same evening, in the Fifteenth Ward, Col. Geo. S. Boyd, of Washington City. In the Wilkinsburg, East Liberty and Sixth P. Farnsworth, of Illinois.

On Friday evening, at City Hall, J. D. Hunter, of Indiana.

THE 10 DEGREE.

For information concerning the swearing on the Bench of the Supreme Court at this State, occasioned by the resignation of Judge Agnew, to find Judge Woodward is at present in Philadelphia, feeling to accept the appointment tendered to him by Gov. Geary. We understand that he has signified his intention to consult with his friends in Pittsburgh before he determines what he will do. Concerning the prospective vacancy in our District Court, matters are therefore in disorder. When last accounts came to hand, Mr. Hunt and Mr. Kingsbury were the candidates. Since then we have understood that the friends of Judge Vance, Esq., have brought him forward, and that many of our business men and others have united in a petition in his favor. Mr. Vance is one of the oldest and ablest practitioners at the Allegheny bar. He is learned in the law, "high-toned and gentlemanly in every relation in life. We have no doubt that his appointment would prove satisfactory to all concerned, and that the election would be eminently judicious. We understand also that the friends of Judge Brown, of the Common Pleas, to the District Court, in case Judge Wilkinson accepts, has been pressed with considerable zeal. Judge Brown, we need not say, is in every respect worthy of the position.

GEORGETOWN GOOD ENOUGH.

Colonel Wickham Winston Hoomes, of Washington City, is entitled to the honor of consecutive and promulgating an act-heavy motto a new verse. We have never been compelled in the following out-lawry, namely, that the moon says republican of the district is true. For instance, air and water are generally essential to every existence. Wanting an unlimited quantities of both (no of charge). You are equally in luck. According to Mr. Hoomes, all natural wants centred by a free supply of one or all of these three things or their products. Hence he argues the great and growing want of the hour is "free land." Mr. Hoomes cites the assertion of independence in support of his argument that "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" is only attainable where land are free to the nations. He argues that, inasmuch as air, water and land are absolutely necessary to our lives, liberty and pursuit of happiness any law that interferes with either is a direct usurpation to that glorious instrument, and pro-cures to nullify himself inherently pernicious.

> "The question of our republican form of government rests upon the right of all men to the free use of the land. Without land no man can be free. Without land no man can be independent. Without land no man can be a republican. Without land no man can be a patriot. Without land no man can be a man."

Upon these views we get forth under the auspices of a new born organization known as the "National Greeter Free Land League." The "Organ law" alluded to by Mr. Hoomes sets up the Free Land League in opposing hereafter any further sale, gift, granting or locating of unappropriated public lands within the United States, and in demanding that after the year 1869, all lands, now, and all with their natural products, lying outside of the settlements limits, now in the control of any person, shall be forever free public property.

The damage to the land upon a good cause by claiming for such can scarcely be estimated. We have great confidence in Mr. Hoomes's project as explained in a pamphlet recently by half gentleman in the office of the Intelligencer in New York, on the second instant, in presence of Fernando Pinkerton, and a number of delegates to the late Labor Congress. Where Mr. Hoomes obtains his data for the notion that Congress should in any way control the sales of the public land, we are unable to say, but we think they cannot by any possibility do so. Congress has now the power to sell the land, and it has exercised that power for many years. Does Mr. Hoomes think the unoccupied public lands are to be thrown under cultivation free of charge? If he does, he must have passed his recollection upon his boyhood days and within the reach of men who have devoted a life time to the gentle study of the pumpkin.

THE DEMOCRATIC DEMONSTRATION.

The Democrats turned out yesterday in numbers that were probably satisfactory to all concerned. The day was fine, a general willingness appeared to relax to improve it, so that the turnout came from far and near, within ordinary business conference to con-venience to the demonstration and hear Mr. Pendleton. No doubt the Democrats will exaggerate the numbers, but we have no disposition to belittle them, or dispute that it was a large and tolerably enthusiastic turn out. There is no wisdom in under estimating your enemy. The general who acts on such a principle, nine cases out of ten will get whipped. We are disposed, therefore, to take the thing at the highest estimate of the Democratic themselves, and urge it on Republicans as an argument of overwhelming force why they should employ the remaining time before the election in preparing for the battle. The demonstration of yesterday was a showing of hands which will be followed by votaries ballots, if rightly followed up by the Republicans. In proceed our opponents to be organized and agitated, and our friends can employ the remaining time with an intelligent understanding on this point. We say therefore, forward, friends! You know not the enemy, and know where he is. Every man in his place—forward!

ONE WEEK!

Whatever remains to be done to insure a Republican triumph in Pennsylvania in October must be done in the present week. The case, so far as argument is concerned, is nearly closed. The time has arrived when there is something more important than argument. We mean the details whereby previous labor will have its legitimate and full effect. The first thing to be done, and at once, is to complete the registration of the voters, and the appointment of the lists, in either into blocks, in the country into districts, to the end that every Republican voter shall be promptly at the polls.

The next thing is to look after the inspectors—arrangements whereby carpet-baggers, in the pay of the Democrats, will be promptly arrested in attempting to vote and before the intended fraud has been perpetrated.

Review the lists, go over the ground again, and close up the ranks, with the firm resolve that every Republican shall vote—that no fraud shall be perpetrated by the enemy. "How to the line," friends, let what may happen!

THE JEWS.

It gives us pleasure to trans-e the above to the columns of the Commercial, as indicating that the "peculiar people" are fully in accord with the liberal principles of Christian civilization. Many of our readers will be surprised at the statement which we have copied. Such facts serve to show the powerful influence of the leading and especially aggressive institution, in steadily curing narrow sectarian habits and prejudices, instilled through ages of the old Opposition, and which memories of non-toleration and persecution would scarcely suppose to exist. In Pittsburgh the Israelites are, as a class, among our best citizens, and not a few of them are found always ready to make earnestly and generously in promoting such projects for the general welfare as make their aid. During the session the Senate before were several members with our own in the military and navy, and many of the men were among the finest contributors to the Sanitary Commission and the bounty funds.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

A movement is on foot to raise the subscription to the New York stock Exchange and Produce Board of Trade to $50,000, and it is said that Messrs. John E. Beach, of the New York stock Exchange, and Mr. Wm. H. Neilson, of the Produce Exchange, will head the list with $5,000 each.

A Wisconsin man, married and father, fourteen children, has applied to a Judge there to be divorced from his wife, on the ground that she has been in the habit of shutting him out of the house at night. The Judge glances at papers presented by the clerk, perhaps signed by the applicant, asks no question, nods his head, in token of approval, and the clerk writes with his pen to a single part of the court room, in favor of the husband, so gracefully that the first may not be interrupted, and the applicants and suitors are sworn in open Court. Is the Court "satisfied that the applicant has resided within the United States for years at least?" What question does the Judge ask? What means does he employ to obtain satisfaction? On the trial of cases of law—a jury, affidavits, witnesses are examined in open court, and cross-examined, and the matter submitted to the bottom. In naturalization another judicial act, to be done in open court—where every hearer may Judge compel a public examination to learn how long the party has been in the country in giving where he has resided, what business he engaged in, whether employment to work, what particular views or hostile attachment to any foreign power he may have had, and the cooperation of the Park Association. The whole subject was good on Thursday last, and the Commissioners appointed by Governor Geary met and organized for action. Having formally arrived from the Kentucky state Fair, I have been unable to confer with the other Commissioners between its fairness and those of the Pennsylvania Fair. The contrast between the two institutions is not favorable to the Kentucky Fair. In the west and east are evidently two distinct people. The latter are workers, and apparently in their operations more of the Huguenot, and our women are those whose chief work is moral, while a few, as before a horse, in a orderly I found the ladies in bright plumage, in numbers exceeding the males of the heavier, darker hue, and bewildered with the overwhelming rainbow, with bonnets or sun cups that looked as if a pigeon-shoot had been in full play, and a pigeon placed on a beer barrel, our ladies were less numerous and not so apt to be found in their faces with artistic dashes, and unless strongly perfumed or painted are plainly attractive. The Kentuckians was more gotten up from the country than city, and decidedly more fashionable was taken in machines and matching fixed articles of merit and practical utility than in those of show and luxury.

I could add many incidents to this rather desultory account, but must conclude by stating that the press of Harrisburg fully did its duty in such matters, and on every occasion of courtesy and the writer is particularly under obligations to the state reporter who manages the Associated Press dispatches, Col. Thomas A. Scott, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the Superintendent at Harrisburg, did all in their power to facilitate the transportation of people and transaction of visitors at the very lowest rates.

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

SENATOR WILSON WILL SPEAK

RECONNOISSANCE IN FORCE.

Hon. Henry Wilson, United States Senator from Massachusetts, will speak at City Hall on Wednesday evening. A grand demonstration of all the uniformed Republican Clubs in the city and vicinity will be made upon that evening, and it is earnestly desired by the officers of the several clubs that every member will be in line. Let us have one grand rally before the decisive day arrives. Have every uniformed man, with his torch, in the procession, and keep up the enthusiasm of the hour until the going down of the sun on the 3d of November.

Senator Wilson is one of the most logical and eloquent speakers in the country, and his arguments are solid and convincing. He should be greeted by an overflowing audience, and the mechanics and laboring men of the city should be present in force to hear words of truth from the lips of one who was of their number and who has done so much for them. Let every district send a large delegation to the City Hall on Wednesday evening.

RED JACKET
AXES,

COLBURN'S PATENT.
Patented July 9, 1867. Re-Issued Aug. 18, 1868.
Extracts from Letters and Reports of the working qualities of the Axe.
I. It will not be returned to be TOOK AXE.
II. It will cut 25 per cent. faster.
III. It will stay brighter and cut with its use, but with poor Axe, less sharpening will be required.
IV. If I could not get another, I would give $25 for this and not buy it.
V. It will not keep pace better than any other Axe.
VI. I would not be without it for any money.
VII. The only objection is, it goes too far into the chip.
VIII. Men who chop for a living unfeverally approve of it, &c., &c., &c., unfeverally.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

PITTSBURGH, Tuesday Evening, October 6, 1868.

The local money market remains unchanged. There is a good deal of inquiry for funds at the legitimate business rates, and the offerings of paper seem ample, longer than usual. There has been no accumulation of money, however, which was to be expected from the quiet which has prevailed for some time past. Business will probably continue to improve from now until the close of the year, and we shall not be surprised if the market will assume some new features before the month will expire.

The local market was quiet and steady to-day, with no change to note in quotations.

James E. Brady & Co., corner of Fourth and Wood streets, quote Gold and Silver Securities as follows:
